

CURCUMIN EFFECT

HEALTH BY NATURE

60 HERBAL TABLETS

The turmeric root has a thousand-year-old tradition in Indian medicine, in Chinese medicine and in traditional Western herbal medicine. The use of the root is documented throughout history, and it includes a very wide range of health conditions. Turmeric root contains components called Curcuminoids (Yellow pigments that give the root its intense color). Turmeric is the pigment that is now considered the "yellow wonder".

This natural ingredients, considered to be the most researched in the world, has garnered coverage of over 4,000 publications and various scientific studies. During these studies it appears that turmeric has a positive effect on hundreds of biological mechanisms in the human body. These studies confirm the traditional use of turmeric.

About the product 'Curcumin Effect':

The natural curcumin extracted from the root turmeric has many known and promising effects. However, it is known that it is not absorbed effectively in the digestive processes and therefore the body has difficulty utilizing its benefits.

This innovative product technology from "Bara herbs" (CPC – Curcumin Phospholipid Complex) offers a high-quality extract of the curcumin component, in combination with phospholipid components of medicinal herbs - Designed to enhance its absorption.

